Students may count any upper-division PHIL class as an elective, provided it does not already count towards the satisfaction of another requirement. For example, if a student has already satisfied their Additional History requirement (Category 2) by taking PHIL 291 Medieval Philosophy and PHIL 301 Kant and the 19th Century, they may still take another Additional History class (e.g. PHIL 323 Existentialism) and it will automatically count as an elective.

Eligible upper-division classes, other than those listed in 5B above are (titles and pre-requisites are listed under the relevant categories above):

History and Additional History (Categories 1 and 2) - PHIL 300, 301, 323, 343, 350, 379, 380, 382, 383

M&E classes (Category 3) - 368, 377, 410, 420, 425, 430, 435, 440

Seminars (Category 4) - 455, 480, 490.

* = 400-level Undergraduate Course available for Graduate Credit

Note: Philosophy majors may "double count" philosophy courses for fulfillment of both the major and GE requirements.
